ADELAIDE HOUSLEY (Poet)

TALENT TEAM

Hiya everyone! I'm Adelaide, and I'm from A-Place-In-The-Woods-You've-Never-Heard-Of-Even-If-You-Live-Here, New Jersey, where I live with my two cats! (Oh, and my family too.) I'll be graduating this year so make sure that you come up and say hi so that I can get to know you before I leave for BYU this fall. I love reading, dance, singing, handicrafts, sudoku, musical theatre... and well, a lot of other things too! Can't wait to meet all of you, my fellow home-grown creatives and thinkers... so let's have an awesome time together at LDSHE!

ALEX VAN KOMEN (Professor Opa)

TALENT TEAM

Greetings and salutations. I am an eloquent 17 year old from Ohio. I enjoy using exceedingly lengthy words in my casual communicable exchanges. I am extraordinarily enthusiastic about epic fantasy literature. If you find me without a book, I would probably be writing or composing music on the piano. This is my sestet year at LDSHE and I hope you will have an exceptional time this year.

Alex

Anna

ANNA BOHON (Baby Shark)

Heyyyyyyy! I'm Sabrina, but you can call me Bri. I'm the oldest of four siblings and the caretaker/mom/chaser of three pet birds, although they act more like gremlins. I love reading and if I was a character in a book I think I'd be Hoid IYKYK because I love being the center of attention. I love music-both playing it and listening to it, animals, noodles, and acting like a psychopath. If you've read this and made it this far, pretend I just made a really funny joke and laugh really loud, OK? OK. Love ya.

NICOLE FREEMAN

Nicole Freeman felt inspired to homeschool before she was married and had children. All it took was meeting two families with well-behaved, athletic, musical, intelligent, social, and extremely helpful around the house children and she was all in. She received her degree from Brigham Young University in Interior Design and was often asked if she was an Elementary Education Major. Teaching and children seemed to go together naturally for her. Naturally, complete overwhelm, indescribable joy, and tremendous growth also came. Currently, she is the mother of four boys and two girls. Their ages are twelve, fourteen, fifteen, seventeen, seventeen and eighteen. When she has a moment to look in the mirror and reflect, she frequently says to herself, "I don't know how you do it?" Nicole enjoys designing homes as a hobby, sewing, hiking, camping, being in, near or around water and books. Lots and lots of books!

M.D. (MIKE) HOUSE

"In late 2020, M.D. House semi-retired from a successful career in Corporate Finance and Business Leadership that allowed him to experience all facets of designing, producing, marketing and selling products to customers across the world. He enjoyed that career, and still consults part-time, but being able to pursue his passion for creative writing has been a tremendous blessing.

During that first career, he published one science fiction novel, called Patriot Star. Since embarking on his new journey with much more time and focus for writing, he's published a sequel (Kindred Star), along with seven religious historical fiction novels (which were a surprise) and his first fantasy novel, Crossroads of Awakening Memory, Book 1 of the epic fantasy series called The End Times Convergence.

His docket is filled with new projects, including Book 3 in the Patriot Star series, more Barabbas spin-offs, and additional volumes in the End Times Convergence (plus some side projects, of course). He is also now the President of LDSPMA (Latter-day Saints in Publishing, Media, and the Arts)."

In other situations, you will find him plying the trades of devoted husband, impish father of five, auto mechanic, woodworker, plumber, history buff, electrician, heavy equipment operator, aviation enthusiast, ecclesiastical leader, public speaker, semi-lawyer, home remodeler, lumberjack, and addicted reader. CHRIS JONES (MR. C)

Chris Jones (alias Mr. C) is a mysterious figure of legend and myth. Not much is known about him except that he can be lured out of hiding by groups of curious teenagers (and sometimes their parents). Hints about him can be sussed out of his many novels and nonfiction books, while closer inspection is offered in his classes and writing workshops that attract students from all over the country. He is rumored to live in Utah with his wife, whichever of their eight children happen to be home, and an increasingly murderous cat.

Youth Devotional & Song & Announcements (Salon C)

9:00 - 9:50am

Combo: The Great and Dreadful Day of the Lord (Salon C)

Keith Longmore

How great will be the Second Coming? What's so dreadful about it? Should I be scared or excited? Putting the Second Coming into peaceful perspective.

Hakuna Matata- No worries with Christ (Ironwood)

Joey Mascio

It seems teens everywhere these days are stressed, worried, and anxious. That's not a fun way to live. The good news is most teens can improve their emotional state by improving their emotional intelligence. For example, do you even know what emotions are? Where they come from? What you're supposed to do with the unpleasant ones?? The answers may surprise you. Combine improved emotional intelligence with the peace of the gospel of Jesus Christ, and anyone in ANY situation can live a life that is Hakuna Matata: worry free.

Introduction to Soap Carving (Outside)

Andrew Housely

While knives with shiny metal blades look great it is actually easier and safer to start your journey to be a master carver using wood tools to carve . . . soap. Join this class to learn how to plan out a project and turn it into reality. Materials will be provided.

Ballroom Dance (Ballroom)

Lily Van Koman

Come join us in learning a dance that will give you a different option to shuffling around awkwardly on the dance floor.

11:00 - 11:50am

COMBO: Hat Juggling (Salon C)

Paul Clegg

Come learn how to juggle. In real life. And not just hats. Maybe some fire sticks as well. Ok well maybe just some things that seem like they are on fire. Everyone wears a lot of hats and sometimes it's hard to keep them all in order and in the air. Let's talk about the ones we can keep, the ones we can let go, and then ones that really define who we are as a person.

David? Or Goliath? Which one am I most like? (Salon D)

Keith Longmore

How can I be confident without being prideful? Tips on avoiding the dangers of "puffed rice" and becoming like "rock candy".

So They've Called You on a Mission: What Now?

Returned Missionary Panel

Come find out what to expect on a mission from those who have served well. Grow in your ability to be spiritually prepared. And hear stories about what we would have liked to know before our missions.

Structured Stories that Matter (Crown Palm)

M.D. (Mike) House

"The greatest storyteller who ever lived was Jesus Christ himself. Every story is a parable, with good or bad messaging. There's no such thing as ""neutral"" entertainment.

How can you create foundations and structures for stories that will both entertain and enlighten?"

Combo: African Beadwork (Salon C)

Abeena Baako

How to Navigate Signs of the Second Coming

2025 LDSHE Conference, Sandusky, Ohio
Presenter: Keith Longmore

President Harold B. Lee, General Conference, October 1972 Priesthood Session

“Let me give you the sure word of prophecy on which you should rely for your guide instead of these strange sources which may have great political implications.

Read the 24th chapter of Matthew—particularly that inspired version as contained in the Pearl of Great Price. (JS—M 1.) Then read the 45th section of the Doctrine and Covenants where the Lord, not man, has documented the signs of the times. Now turn to section 101 and section 133 of the Doctrine and Covenants and hear the step-by-step recounting of events leading up to the coming of the Savior.

Finally, turn to the promises the Lord makes to those who keep the commandments when these judgments descend upon the wicked, as set forth in the Doctrine and Covenants, section 38.

Brethren, these are some of the writings with which you should concern yourselves, rather than commentaries that may come from those whose information may not be the most reliable and whose motives may be subject to question. And may I say, parenthetically, most of such writers are not handicapped by having any authentic information on their writings.”

As the last of the last days unfold, it may seem to many of the faithful that Satan is winning. But if the faithful are conversant with the signs and prophecies in the scriptures, they will recognize in the midst of the chaos, revealed signs. When these signs are seen, they will increase our faith as we recognize the hand of God and His foreknowledge of these events and His revealing of them to His prophets and from prophets to us.

(Music, “Will He Ever Come” Michael McClean)

David? Or Goliath? Which One Am I Most Like? |

Keith Longmore

1 Samuel 17

LDS prophets, particularly Ezra Benson, have warned against pride emphasizing its destructive nature and the importance of humility, viewing pride as a major obstacle to spiritual progress and a stumbling block to Zion.

Pride as a Sin:

LDS prophets, including Benson view pride as a sin that breeds enmity towards God and fellow man.

Pride as a Stumbling Block:

President Benson famously stated, “Pride is the great stumbling block to Zion”.

Pride and Humility:

LDS teachings emphasize the importance of looking up to God and caring about what is right, rather than looking sideways to man and arguing who is right.

Pride and the “Natural Man”:

LDS teachings warn against seeking the praise of men over the praise of God, and against allowing the world’s judgment to overshadow the whisperings of the Holy Ghost.

Pride and Service:

LDS teachings encourage individuals to serve others rather than seeking personal recognition or praise.

Pride and the Priesthood:

In the context of the priesthood, LDS teachings emphasize the importance of humility and service, warning against prideful attitudes.

Pride and the Savior:

LDS teachings emphasize that the Savior’s example is one of humility and service, and that we should strive to follow his example.

The Book of Mormon prophetically exposes the sin of pride and extols the virtue of humility. The “Pride Cycle” plays throughout the Book of Mormon showing the consequences of pride and the blessings of humility. “You will NEVER understand Jesus Christ and His Atonement unless you are humble. There is no other way?” David A. Christensen

Self-Confidence: Being You is Better Than Being Someone Else (Salon C)

Joey Mascio

If only we were someone else we would be more popular, made fun of less, and more confident. Right? Nope! Because if you were somehow able to body swap with someone else, you'd still take your brain with you—and your brain is where you sabotage yourself. Instead of hijacking someone else's body, work on taking back control of your brain that has been hijacked by negative self-talk and personal judgments. Not only is that option ACTUALLY possible, but it's easier than you think and you can do it TODAY. Self-confidence is possible for anyone, especially you.
